Lynda,

I just chatted with Steven to get an update. He is filling in the few remaining holes in the background paper today. He is wrapping that up now and once his supervisor (Lee) blesses it, we will be in a position to get back on Denise's calendar.

I think the draft paper is terrifically helpful, by the way.

Lynda and Don,

I think we should hold off until at least tomorrow before re-scheduling with Denise.

Attached below is the latest draft, and includes some back-and-forth between the FMFIA attorney and me. As it relates to CZARA, I think this is probably ready for your review, but I anticipate your comments likely will be more in the nature of questions (because I myself still have at least one).

Thanks,

Steve

The attached here incorporates Lee's comments, which were mostly in the second part about CZARA.

Thanks,

Steve

Steve--good paper. I don't believe you need quite so much detail on FMFIA and could focus solely on the "compliance w/ law" requirement. Would provide you w/ a track change version w/ strikeouts but I am on travel and only have my blackberry. Also, what I'm much more adept at the latter than I am at the former. Jim provided me with his file and some light direction on FMFIA, but I was only really able to scratch the surface on that.

The timing on this is that the program wants to schedule a briefing for her next week if they can, but they need three days advance notice, so if you could look at this sooner rather than later, that helps immeasurably. [The briefing has been postponed once.]
